

The Queenslander

Official Newsletter for AJ2007 Queensland Contingent

Issue 4 – 6 January 2007

Queenslanders looking good...

After spending the day visiting two of the off-site activities I can honestly report to the Welfare Officers that the Scouts are trying to look after themselves. Leaders, all those discussions with your Troops have been paying off but Scouts, don't forget to keep it up.

Sam, from Labrador, made his own slogan to encourage people to drink.

"Don't think - drink"

Scott, the JTL of Troop 239, should be proud of Alyce's sun safe actions.

Birthdays

- 6 Jan (S) Joel McConnell Troop 151
 - (S) Alice Curran Troop 311
 - (S) Kelly Rattray Troop 365
 - (S) Arish Soogrim Troop 365
 - (L) Veronica Gammie Troop 222
 - (L) Henry Willersdorf Troop 225
- (S) Scout (V) Venturer Scout I Rover (L) Leader

Venturer Scouts ready to rock

The Venture Extreme site has been blasting, according to all reports. I hear it's the 'cool' place to be. I wonder if that has anything to do with the water pistols - what do you think?

Word from Welfare

Leaders have paid to come to the Jamboree too. Help them to have a fun experience.

Out on the road...

Troop 303 tested their grass-skiing skills at Riverforce and there is grass there!

Meanwhile Kyle from Kenmore tried out the camouflage net.

Jordan from Cairns and Michael from Gympie enjoyed the Sharps Movie House and the lollipops they bought.

But Natasha from Blackwater has had her run of bad luck lately. She was 'whacked at Bushwacked' then she caught the bus that became bogged and started a small scrub fire on the way to Riverforce which saw two Police cars and the Rural Fire Brigade flying out to the rescue. Hope tomorrow's a better day for you Natasha!

RIKKI your roving reporter

Leaders Super Supper

Queensland Contingent Headquarters look forward to sharing our sunny hospitality with all our Leaders.

Monday 8 Jan or Wednesday 10 Jan

7.30pm

Queensland Contingent Headquarters

Leaders in Troop lines, please have half of your Leaders come each of the evenings if you can. Service Leaders in Sub Camps, come when you can. To assist with catering please drop in and let us know which day you will visit us.

Change is inevitable, except from vending machines